MUSIC hath charms for minds with woes oppress'd,
That soothe their griefs and lull their cares to rest;
It fixes the soul, and warms the heart to glow,
With sweet compassion for another's woe.
Lifts up the mind with gratitude above,
And fills the suppliant with diviner love.

Ode on Science

L M

The morning sun shines from the East and spreads his glory to the west, All nations with his beams are blest, Where ere the radiant light appears, So science spreads her her Columbia, And sets her sons among the stars, Fair freedom her attendant waits,

To bless the portals of her gates, And crown the young and rising states,

The British yoke the Galic chain, were urged upon her sons in vain,

All haughty tyrants we disdain, And shout long live America.
